Proudly announces a presentation

Mr. Michael Price

Senior Operations Manager
McAfee Labs Latin America

will give a presentation entitled

McAfee Labs and Global Threat Intelligence

Abstract

McAfee Labs is the world’s premiere malware and vulnerability research organization. Labs is responsible for analyzing and responding to thousands of new threats daily. Labs handles much of this work through it’s Global Threat Intelligence (GTI) capability. A talk will be given describing the threat landscape, how it has evolved over the last several years, where we believe it is going and how GTI factors into responding to and protecting customers from threats.
